

Human Resources Leader of the Year Nomination Form

Nominations are now being accepted for National Native American Human Resources Association's (NNAHRA) HR Leader of the Year.

The HR Leader of the year award is presented annually during their national conference. The award recognizes an HR Leader who has exemplified the strategic role in the past twelve months and who is otherwise an outstanding leader within the HR community.

Deadline for Submissions: August 31

Nominee Information
Full Name:	<input type="text"/>
Position:	<input type="text"/>
Employer:	<input type="text"/>
Tribe:	<input type="text"/>
Email:	<input type="text"/>
Years in Positions:	<input type="text"/>
No of Employees in Organization	<input type="text"/>
Years in HR Profession:	<input type="text"/>
Phone:	<input type="text" value=" ()"/>

How has the nominee established the human resource function as an integral part of their organization's goals and strategic plan?

Type your answer here...

Human Resources Leader of the Year Nomination Form

How has the nominee demonstrated their leadership and management skills within the human resources function?

Type your answer here...

How has the nominee contributed to the HR profession as a whole?

Type your answer here...

Human Resources Leader of the Year Nomination Form

List activities, such as civic or professional association or leadership position, in which the nominee is involved:

Type your answer here...

Please send the following information separately:

1. Nominee's resume or employment history
2. Nominee's biography
3. Letter of recommendation from the General Manager, President or Chairman of the organization or Tribe.

NOMINATOR:

Relationship with the nominee:

Your organization's name

Address:

Phone:

Cell:

Email: