The National Native American Human Resources Association (NNAHRA) is a non-profit organization comprised of HR professionals working for or providing professional services to Native American Tribes throughout North America. The association began in 1996 between four tribes meeting to network in the Pacific Northwest. NNAHRA has evolved into a major national organization with regional and national conferences benefiting all those who work with Native American communities and businesses. NNAHRA has achieved national prominence with 1,000+ Tribal Government and Tribal Enterprise members and growth. Please join our Native American Tribal Governments and Enterprises by supporting NNAHRA.

Why Partner with NNAHRA?

- A non-profit organization dedicated only to the education and support of HR/OD Professionals across Indian Country. A volunteer board coordinates all membership services.
- A membership of nearly 2,500 human resources professionals and tribal leaders from over 300 tribes
- An annual conference with the attendance of over 750 human resources professionals and leaders.
- An annual two-day summit with a focus on current issues - 60 - 100 attendees.
- Direct connection to decision makers in Indian Country HR Administration, Organizational Development, HRIS, Benefits and Compensation, and Employee Relations.
